In this programming assignment, you will use Java to develop a mail user agent. Please refer to pp. 178-179 (Assignment 2: Mail Client) of the textbook. You will find additional information on http://www.awl.com/kurose-ross. You need to register on-line using the student access code (see inside cover of your textbook). To get credit for your work, please demo your web server to the TA. The lab assignment must be completed by October 31. The TA will hold office hours that evening (6-9 PM). You are advised to complete the lab earlier and demo to the TA, either during his office hours by scheduling an appointment with him. You are also advised to meet the TA as soon as possible to get further clarifications.
